Understanding the Admission:

- 10) Has your lawyer told you what you did was against the law (delinquent act)?
 Yes  No
- 11) By admitting what you did, do you understand that you are giving up:
- a) the right to be presumed innocent, which means the judge does not think you broke the law until the D.A. (District Attorney) proves beyond a reasonable doubt that you broke the law (this means that the judge must be really sure that you broke the law);  Yes  No
  - b) the right to a hearing by a fair judge, which means the judge will listen to what everyone has to say and look at all the evidence before deciding;  Yes  No
  - c) the right to remain silent and your silence cannot be held against you, which means you will not be punished for not speaking;  Yes  No
  - d) the right to be heard, which means you may tell the judge your side of the story if you want;  Yes  No
  - e) the right to face and cross-examine witnesses, which means you can ask all witnesses questions;  Yes  No
  - f) the right to present witnesses or evidence to help tell your side of the story, but you do not have to do anything;  Yes  No

- g) the right to challenge evidence against you, which means you tell the judge you disagree with something;  Yes  No
  - h) the right to make objections and ask for rulings, which means the judge decides if he or she should hear certain evidence; and  Yes  No
  - i) the right to have another court, which is an appellate court, review this judge's decision.  Yes  No
- 12) Do you understand if the judge accepts your admission and believes you need help ("treatment, rehabilitation, and supervision"), the judge may find you delinquent, which means that you broke the law and need help?  Yes  No

Possible Consequences of Adjudication of Delinquency:

- 13) Do you understand that if you are found delinquent, the judge may make you pay money and place you outside of your home or on probation until you turn 21 years old?  Yes  No
- 14) Are you aware that if you are admitting to _____
 that your driving license will be suspended now or in the future (which means you will not be able to drive)?
 (lawyer shall write acts on this line, cross off, or write n/a).
- 15) Do you understand that this case can be used against you in the future? For example, if you break the law again, you may get a longer sentence in jail.
 Yes  No
- 16) Do you understand that if you are found delinquent, other people may find out about it? You may also have to tell people, including colleges, military recruiters, or employers?  Yes  No
- 17) Do you understand that if you are not a U.S. citizen, it may cause problems, which could include being forced to leave the U.S.?  Yes  No

Admission Agreements:

- 18) Are you aware that the judge does not have to accept any agreement between you and the D.A.?  Yes  No  N/A

Appeals:

- 19) If you are found delinquent after this admission, you can have a higher court review your case for three reasons:
- a) Your admission was not knowingly, intelligently, and voluntarily made, which means you did not understand this admission or were forced to admit;
 Yes  No

b) The court did not have jurisdiction, which means it was not the proper court to take your admission; or  Yes  No

c) The judge's disposition of the charge(s), which means what the judge is going to do with you (like a sentence in adult court), is more than the biggest punishment an adult would get for the same crime.  Yes  No

If you do not admit, do you understand you have other rights?  Yes  No

Lawyer's Representation and Opportunity to Speak with Guardian

20) Are you okay with what your lawyer did for you and how he or she explained everything?  Yes  No

21) Did you talk with your parent or guardian about admitting the charge(s)?
 Yes  No
