ATTEST:

_____

INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMPLETING PETITION FOR VOLUNTARY RELINQUISHMENT OF PARENTAL RIGHTS AND INSTRUCTIONAL COMMENTS

There are two types of petitions for voluntary relinquishment of parental rights. Section 2501 of the Adoption Act involves relinquishment of parental rights to an approved agency such as Crawford County Children and Youth Services. The other is provided for in Section 2502 of the Adoption Act and relates to relinquishment of parental rights to individuals, i.e. adoptive parent(s). The new petition is designed to accommodate both types.

The first page contains the Preliminary Decree. The executed petition with the attached Preliminary Decree is presented to the judge who will sign the Preliminary Decree and set the evidentiary hearing date. The Preliminary Decree also provides the basic guidelines for the required notice. The practitioner should carefully review the statutory references mentioned in the Preliminary Decree as well as any other applicable laws or rules. The practitioner is responsible to give proper notice to those entitled to notice. The Adoption Act and Orphans Court Rules should be referenced to see if new legislation has changed any of the notice requirements.

In July, 1992, the Adoption Act was amended to permit the termination of a putative father's parental rights in a voluntary relinquishment proceeding of a natural parent merely by giving the required notice to the putative father. (23 Pa.C.S.A. §2503). At the same time, the Adoption Act was amended to permit the same method of terminating a putative father's parental rights in a "Petition to Confirm Consent to Adoption" proceedings. (23 Pa.C.S.A. 2504).

In determining whether a petition for voluntary relinquishment of parental rights should be used, the practitioner must remember that the parent relinquishing his/her parental rights must appear and testify at the evidentiary hearing (23 Pa.C.S.A. §2503). [PA. Orphans' Court Rule Nos. 15.2 and 15.3 require any person whose joinder, or consent is attached to a voluntary relinquishment of parental rights, shall be examined under oath at the hearing unless excused by the court.]

Occasionally a parent who agrees to voluntarily relinquish his/her parental rights also agrees to sign the Petition and appear in court to testify however thereafter changes his/her mind about appearing in court to testify. This presents a serious problem because the adoption cannot be concluded without the termination of this parent's parental rights. The only other methods available to terminate the parental rights of a natural parent are a Petition to Confirm Consent to Adoption (23 Pa.C.S.A. §2504) or Petition for Involuntary Termination of Parental Rights (23 Pa. C.S.A. §2511). In most cases, it is more difficult to proceed with an involuntary termination proceeding. This requires competent testimony to establish one of the grounds for involuntary termination as set forth in Section 2511 of the Adoption Act. In some cases and under such circumstances, competent witnesses to establish these grounds for involuntary termination are not available. On the other hand, a termination of parental rights in a "Petition to Confirm Consent to Adoption" can be legally justified by introducing into evidence a properly executed consent to adoption and proper notice to the consenting parent. The consent must comply with 23 Pa. C.S.A. §2513 and cannot be obtained less than 72 hours from time of birth. (23 Pa. C.S.A. §2711(c)). If a situation arises as described above, the practitioner will not be able to proceed with a "Petition to Confirm Consent to Adoption" unless the practitioner has a properly executed consent as specified in Section 2513 of the Adoption Act. Therefore, it may be advisable to have a parent who is signing a petition to voluntarily relinquish parental rights execute a proper consent form which can be utilized in case this parent refuses to appear in court. For convenience, a consent form for use with a "Petition to Confirm Consent" is attached to the petition for voluntary relinquishment of parental rights. The practitioner should make every effort to proceed with a voluntary relinquishment proceeding rather than a "Petition to Confirm Consent." From the viewpoint of the adoptive parents, this is the safest and most desirable method of terminating parental rights. The appearance before a judge and the inquiry by a judge minimizes the possibility of the parent contesting the termination of his/her parental rights at some later date. For the reasons set forth above, the Adoption Act categorizes the "Petition to Conform Consent to Adoption" as an "alternative procedure for relinquishment." This procedure should be utilized only as an alternative. If at all possible, use the voluntary relinquishment procedure.

The new petition for voluntary termination of parental rights was designed to comply with the Adoption Code and the PA Orphans' Court Rules. Understanding and ease of completion were the primary objectives. Most of the questions are clear and direct. They need no explanation. These instructions will only address those questions and comments that require some explanation. In most cases, the inquiries and comments are referenced to their statutory source.

The first part of the petition provides a simple method of indicating who is doing the relinquishing and to whom are the parental rights being relinquished.

Next, the formal introductory paragraph should be completed with the name(s) of the parent(s) who is/are relinquishing parental rights.

Paragraph No. 5 relates to a relinquishing parent who is under the age of 18. The consent of the parents of this minor is not required (23 Pa.C.S.A. §2501 and 2502), however notice must be sent to the parent(s) or guardian of said minor (23 Pa.C.S.A. §2503(b)).

Paragraphs 7, 8 and 9 request information about the termination of parental rights of the other natural parent(s) and/or putative father. This information will assist the court in determining if all the required consents or terminations have been completed before the hearing on the adoption.

Paragraph No. 11 was designed to avoid the unnecessary filing of "Reports of Intent to Adopt" and "Investigation Reports." Section 2535 of the Adoption Act requires the filing of an Investigation Report ONLY in cases requiring a Report of Intent to Adopt. Preparation and filing of an Investigation Report in cases where it is not required is a large unnecessary financial burden for the adoptive parents.

Many practitioners overlook the PA Supreme Court Rules for additional requirements in adoption procedures. Paragraph No. 11 includes these often overlooked requirements. As a matter of convenience, the petition also contains the required consent forms.

Paragraph No. 12 is inserted to remind the practitioner to attach a birth certificate or certification of registration of birth. If neither of these can be obtained, refer to paragraph 13(j) in the ADOPTION PETITION for an explanation of the procedure that will be required.

The information in No. 13 informs the judge whether or not an Intermediary's Report is required and whether there was custodial placement by an intermediary. Section 2530 of the Adoption Act requires the filing of a home study and pre-placement report in cases of custodial placement by an intermediary.

The objective of paragraphs 14, 15, 16 and 17 is to record relevant information about adoptee, natural mother, natural father and putative father. Rather than being scattered throughout the petition, this information is set at their respective categories. The questions and answers are in a simplistic form for quick reference and easy completion.
